

KC JD Retirees visit the Olathe, Ks Administrative Office
13 November 2025

Luke Gakstatter, Senior Vice President, continued the tradition started several years ago by John Lagemann, to invite local JD retirees to the administrative office for a welcome, update of the industry and insight into the future. (Also a super nice Thanksgiving lunch WITH current employees – THANKS)

Luke, Joel Dawson and several other key managers were very open and shared in a very informative session. The farm economy is in difficult times right now, but as we would expect, John Deere is on top to manage through these times and preparing to attack the opportunities that exist now and will arise at the end of the tunnel.

Great turnout..... see if you recognize some....
